PREFACE

This Directory is a by-product of the more laborious work of inventorying, copying, and indexing church records, which the Delaware Historical Records Survey carried on from its establishment in 1936 (and more intensively since 1939) until its termination in April 1942. During that time lists were compiled of the church records in the State, and when the project was closed these lists were nearly completed but not sufficiently up to date to warrant their publication as the Delaware Church Record Inventory. This material in its undefinitive but nevertheless useful state has been deposited in the Public Archives at Dover, for permanent preservation and consultation by students of Delaware church history.

During the same period more than a hundred volumes of original records of individual church congregations, mostly of the Methodist denomination (always strong in Delaware) and all antedating the year 1914, were copied verbatim, and many of them were indexed. This invaluable source material has also been deposited in the Public Archives, where it serves as a rich source of vital statistics in a State whose vital records are not complete before 1914. So far as is known, the actual copying of records on an extensive scale has been done by no other State survey.

Thus this Directory represents only a small part of the work done by the Historical Records Survey in Delaware. The frequent requests for information about present-day religious organizations which came to the Records Survey from various sources suggested the need for a printed list of this kind, and since the information was also necessary to the other work of the Survey, it seemed worthwhile to compile and publish it. It is hoped that, despite the errors and omissions which it may contain, this Directory will be currently useful and will serve in the future as a record of organized religion in Delaware as it was in 1942.

The Delaware Historical Records Survey was inaugurated in March 1936. In September 1939 it was set up as a State project, sponsored by the Public Archives Commission of Delaware, with Leon deValinger, Jr., then Assistant, now State Archivist, representing the sponsor. Work on church records was under the supervision of Mrs. Marion B. Reed from September 1939 to July 1941, during which time the copying and indexing of church records and the compilation of this directory were undertaken.

Mrs. Esther N. Hall and Mrs. Amy Jenkins have carried on this work and have been especially faithful and efficient in the prosecution of the project, and many ministers throughout the State have responded generously to requests for information and advice. We further wish to acknowledge the services of Mr. Thomas Hudson for the mimeographing of this publication and of the Delaware W.P.A. Art and Craft Project, supervised by Mr. Walter Pyle, for the cover design and binding.

The Delaware Historical Records Survey, a creation of the recent nation-wide economic dislocation, now yields to the still sterner exigencies of wartime. It has fulfilled its purpose of providing genuinely useful work for temporarily unemployed persons, until they could be reabsorbed in private employment. The product of their labor, it is believed, will be recognized as a worthy addition to the historical archives of the State.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. The denominational classification system used in this directory is, in general, that used by the United States Bureau of the Census. The affiliations and chief officials of the various denominations have been given to avoid any possible confusion. Churches are listed alphabetically under their denominational affiliation.
2. All information in this volume has been checked with the various denominational leaders for accuracy and completeness. Where local conditions show a different emphasis from that indicated in the national census, we have endeavored to present the local picture. This is noticeable in the listing for the Society of Friends.
3. Within the ~~Denomination~~, churches are listed under Wilmington, New Castle County outside Wilmington, Kent County, and Sussex County. In the counties, churches are listed from the nearest named town. All addresses under the heading of Wilmington, or of a given town, will be understood to be therein. The spellings used by the Wilmington City Map and the Highway Map are followed.
4. Defunct churches are not included, except those holding anniversary services.
5. Three indexes are given: a pastors' and executives' name index; an index for churches and organizations; and a town index.
6. Omissions. Certain changes taking place while stencils were being cut are not recorded. For instance, one division of the Pencader Presbyterian Church has adopted the name Bible Presbyterian Church and is occupying temporary quarters in the New Century Club at Newark under the pastorate of Rev. Henry C. Welbon. A mission of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. A. is in promising condition at Gerdor Heights. A new Lutheran congregation, St. Mark's, has been established at Bellafonte. Several congregations have disbanded, and at least one which promises some permanence has been formed among Wilmington's colored citizenry.
